

HARRISON COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT

FINANCING THE BOND ISSUE

This bond issue would be repaid over approximately 20-years, and we do not expect a millage increase from Harrison County taxpayers for district purposes. This is possible through current estimates of revenue sources available to the Harrison County School District and anticipated growth in the district's tax base. One of our current debts was recently paid off, and we will apply those funds to the new debt; therefore, mills for district purposes should not go up.